I was very self-conscious about my teeth before treatment, having to get braces felt like the end of the world. However, progress was fast and it wasn't as bad as I thought. Now I can't stop smiling. It was well worth it.

Before I got my brace I couldn't smile or I didn't want to. Now that they are straight I smile in every photo.

I was very nervous at the beginning of the treatment but overall it's nothing to be nervous or worry about. I am very happy with the treatment given.
